

CIRCLES PHYSICIAN PROMOTION PROGRAM

OCTOBER 2025

Evidence-based treatment protocols — coupled with successful outcomes — are at the heart of a clinician's reputation. However, most practitioners fail properly to communicate their expertise.

Circles users already possess the high-quality, longitudinal data which is the foundation of professional influence and patient engagement. At no additional cost, RegenMed supports those clinicians through several communications strategies:

Circle Hours

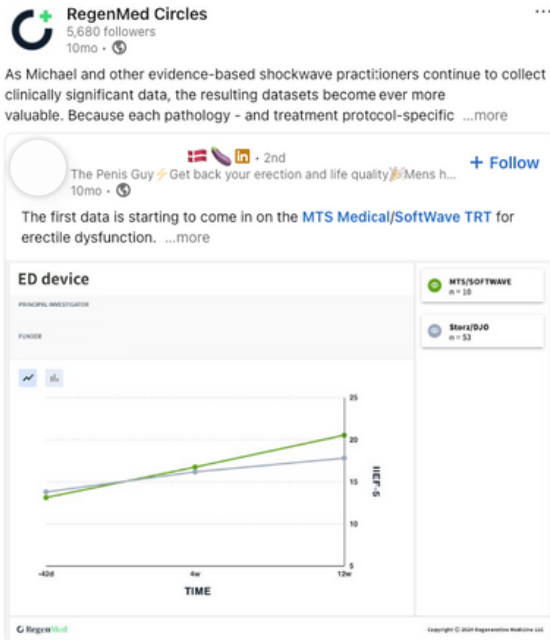

Moderated, secure live-streamed Zoom presentations discussing clinical hypotheses, current data results, best practices. Video editing, including trailers and specific thematic vignettes.

Website/Newsletter Content

Video vignettes featuring data insights, thought leader collaboration, upcoming conference participation, patient stories.

Social Media Posts

Video vignettes featuring data insights, thought leader collaboration, upcoming conference participation, patient stories.

Conference Presentations

Assistance with slides, post conference communications, brochures for Physician-Owned Circles co-investigators.

Co-Investigator Recruitment

Assistance in identifying and onboarding clinicians interested in utilizing similar real-world evidence Observational Protocols.

Let us help you generate the broad value inherent in Circle Datasets. It is your data, and you should benefit from it clinically, professionally, and financially.
